Steven Hill Workshop

"Functional Stoneware"

"What makes a pot functional? How can we, as potters, produce work that transcends function, all the while still honoring a pots' intended use? We'll look for answers through an exploration of thrown forms, with particular attention paid to details such as rims, feet, lids, spouts, and handles."

Join well-known single-fire functional potter, Steven Hill, in his first workshop appearance in the Pacific Northwest:

Slide show and presentation
